

Fun Features

Site of the Month

Each month we highlight a fun and interactive kids' website from the government.

Career Spotlight

Kids.gov features a government employee in our Career Spotlight. Use this section to meet people who have interesting jobs, even read interviews with them.

We also highlight links to different careers. There are descriptions of jobs, including what an FBI special agent or a zookeeper does day-to-day. Visit Kids.gov and find lots of other jobs to excite your imagination, from NASA astronauts to research scientists and artists.

For Parents and Teachers

We have an educator's section filled with activities, lesson plans and more.

Did you know that you can find:

Free publications, colorful posters, practical lesson plans.

<http://www.pueblo.gsa.gov/teachers/>

Teaching and learning resources from the federal government.

<http://www.free.ed.gov/>

Millions of digital items that document American history and culture.

<http://www.loc.gov/teachers/>

Artwork by type and subject.

http://americanart.si.edu/search/search_artworks.cfm

Resources for you to incorporate health, safety, and science topics into your classroom.

<http://www.bam.gov/teachers/index.htm>

About FCIC

The Federal Citizen Information Center, part of the Office of Citizen Services (OCS) in the U.S. General Services Administration, is a trusted source for information about consumer problems and government services.

April 2009

GSA Federal Citizen Information Center

The Official Kids Portal for the U.S. Government

On Kids.gov, you can...

Go to the mall and learn how to be a smarter shopper.
www.ftc.gov/youarehere/

Explore the ocean from your computer.
www.oceanexplorer.noaa.gov/

Use Animal Cams to watch animals live at the National Zoo.
nationalzoo.si.edu/

Create your own digital art.
www.nga.gov/kids/

Find out when a spacecraft, like the International Space Station, will be flying over your city.
spaceflight.nasa.gov/realdata/sightings/

Play a game to learn about healthy diet and exercise.
www.mypyramid.gov/kids/kids_game.html

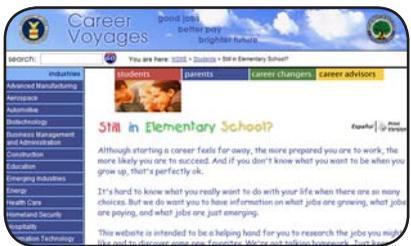

Read about the experiences of a Peace Corps Volunteer.
www.peacecorps.gov/wws/

Become a Planet Protector by learning to reduce, reuse, and recycle.
www.epa.gov/kids/

Deal with stress and peer pressure.
www.bam.gov/

Learn about different career fields.
www.careervoyages.gov/students-elementary.cfm

About Kids.gov

Kids.gov is the official kids' web portal for the U.S. government. Kids.gov has three sections—one with content appropriate for children in grades K-5, one for children in grades 6-8, and another for teachers and educators. Your parents don't have to worry about unsafe links or advertising on Kids.gov. All the websites linked on Kids.gov are trustworthy, so you can browse freely. Kids.gov is a place for you to explore, learn, and have fun!